The COLOP embossing press is a combination of balanced design and optimised functionality.

The construction with additional axis as well as the fully chrome plated steel stands for high quality. The special shaping of the main metal parts offers sturdiness.

Intuitive usability for effortless embossing of paper also for small hands.

The locking mechanism is absolute reliable and easy to operate as well.

Excellent ergonomics by using soft rubber elements for the handle.

COLOP embossing presses can be equipped either with plastic or metal die plates – just by changing the die plate holder.

The rubber covered base guarantees stability without scratches on the table.

An attractive and compact hard protecting case for safe transportation and storage is included.
